CENTRAL-CENTRAL
GAME ON SATURDAY

Spectators Will Have Ample Time to See Georgetown-Virginia Contest Also.

GAME CALLED AT 1 O'CLOCK

First Intercity Match in This City Promises Good Sport—Big MacDonald Will Lead Locals.

What promises to be one of the most interesting games of scholastic football played in this city for some time is that scheduled for Saturday afternoon at American League Park between Central High School of Washington and Central High School of Philadelphia. This is the first time in the history of the sport that an intercity contest has been played in the District, and it affords an excellent opportunity for local enthusiasts to compare home athletes with those of another town. In order that the game at the ball park may not conflict with that at Georgetown between the West End Institute and the University of Virginia, it will start promptly at 1 o'clock, and Jack Cates, of Yale, who is to be one of the officials at Georgetown, will umpire the Central-Central contest. Jack Gass, formerly of Lehigh, will referee. Locals Have Good Chance.

G. W. Kelly, faculty athletic adviser, and coach of the local eleven, states that with the exception of Left Halfback Koswicz, the Dark Blue and White line-up will be intact. Koswicz hurt his hand in scrimmage work about ten days ago and it is possible that he will not play again this season. Another thing which has handicapped Central has been that during the recent investigation into the case of professionalism against "Big Cy" MacDonald, right halfback and captain of the team, Mr. Kelly had to be away for several days, and MacDonald also lost the two days which Phil King gave to the squad.

However, with a stronger aggregation representing them than in any other game this year, the locals should give their visitors a hard battle. Following will be the probable line-up: Ed Evans, left end; G. Rini, left tackle; Lackland, left guard; Taylor, center; Maxey, right guard; Fleming, left tackle; McKee, right end; M. MacDonald, quarterback; A. MacDonald, right halfback; Hamilton, left halfback; Bull, fullback; and the offense, the line-up will be as just stated, but on the defense, it will be shifted slightly. Evans and McKee will change positions. This is done because the former is strong as a defensive halfback in breaking up tackle plays, but on the offense, he is strong in running with the ball. The halves will be thirty and twenty-five minutes.

PROMISES SPORT

When Manager Wilson, of the George Washington University football team, shifted the game with Washington and Lee to Friday instead of Saturday, in order that it would not conflict with the Georgetown-Virginia game, he showed a rare piece of judgment, and thus gave Washington a chance to get into their full share of games this week.

Because of the defeat administered to the Hatched by the Lexingtonians last Thanksgiving Day, the latter will put their strongest line-up on the field that they may wipe out the old score. Both elevens are much stronger than last year, but if anything the District squad has a little the better of the argument this fall according to the showing made in the games so far.

The game is of more than ordinary interest, because it will be the first chance rivalry factions will have to give a true line on a comparison between George Washington and Georgetown.

The latter has been directly playing the Southerners, having won from them in an interesting game by the small margin of 6 to 4. The kicking of a goal, alone, gave the West Enders the victory.

Coach Crowell has not yet decided on the exact line-up, but it is probable that some of the ones who have held berths so far will give way to several new men who have been out in the past week.

MUCH INTEREST IN GEORGETOWN-VA. GAME

The big game this Saturday will be that between Georgetown and University of Virginia, which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Already the demand for tickets has been greater than for any previous contests this season, not only from the regular followers of the game, but also from interested parties as far away as Richmond.

Being the first clash between these two colleges since the split two years ago, it is arousing much more than ordinary interest, and with both teams in practically the best of shape should be a memorable game as the last, in which the locals won by 17 to 16, after the best football game ever seen in this city.

Coach Reilly has not yet decided on his line-up, but it is safe to say that with few exceptions it will be the same as that which played against North Carolina in Norfolk last Saturday.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

FOOTBALL.

Bruce, one of Dartmouth's linemen, worked as a fireman on the Boston and Maine railroad during the summer.

Football receptions are becoming popular. After the Bucknell-Virginia game at Richmond the players were entertained at dinner and a German arranged by the season's debutants followed.

"Spice" Dennie, Brown's speedy end and punter, is probably out of the game for the rest of the season. He has water on the knee and several torn ligaments in his leg.

Experience with the new rules has shown that ends on the defense can be played wide or close in to the tackle.

Four of Minnesota's linemen average 215 pounds. They are Case, 224; Imer, 212; Smith, 216, and Vita, 208.

Chicago football fans are in a hurry over the coming Chicago-Minnesota game. They believe Chicago will win through Eckersall, but respect the Gophers' beef.

Minnesota is looking upon Harvard to leave but a remnant of the Indians for her to face. The Redskins, however, are not much on injuries after a hard game.

Even money is being declined at Ann Arbor on the Michigan-Penn game. The Michigan men are demanding 3 to 2 from the Quakers.

Swarthmore's real strength will be proved on Saturday, when she journeys to Annapolis and faces the Midlites.

One thought in connection with the Brown game is especially humiliating to Harvard. The Crimson hoped to prove superior to discarded Pennsylvania, but the red and blue made nearly twice as many points as Harvard did against the Providence eleven.

Yale kicked fifteen times for 433 yards against the soldiers, averaging forty-one yards. West Point made 64 yards on twenty kicks, averaging thirty-two yards, Yale fumbled seven kicks and recovered three of them. West Point fumbled two and recovered both.

Michigan is weak in line substitutes. Yost was forced to put in Newton, an end player, at tackle against Vanderbilt, when Patrick was injured.

Coach Hutchinson, of Amherst, and Coach Cates, of Annapolis, have exchanged for a few days. Cates played at Yale last year, and will devote most of his attention to the Amherst ends.

The proposition to play the Amherst-Williams game at Springfield this year has fallen through, Amherst declining to play anywhere except on her home grounds.

Yale men are now convinced that the forward passes used by West Point were illegal. They looked that way from the side lines.

Yale is trying to get Bill Reid to agree to Paul Dashiell as one of the umpires for the big game. Reid acquiesced last fall, but will not give in again.

"Tad" Jones, of Yale, has yet to show that he is the real thing under pressure. His showing at West Point

A. A. C. HONORS TIE
BETWEEN TWO CLUBS

Irish-American and New York A. C. Rivalry Keen for Indoor Titles.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—All indications point to a series of sterling performances at the indoor championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, which begin at the Madison Square Garden tomorrow night and end on Saturday night. The entries of many of the most prominent athletes in the East have been received, but the greatest interest is being manifested in the clash between the New York and Irish-American Athletic Clubs, which will meet in their first struggle for national indoor honors.

The New York Athletic Club is the favorite in the hurdle races, with Hillman, McCulloch, Sullivan, Orlington, and Toole, while the Irish-Americans pin their faith on Northridge, Herby and Riley. The accident to Policeman Eller, the crack hurdler, will probably keep him out of the competition. The distance runs should add to the score of the Irish-Americans, as they will be represented by Bonbag, Frank, Cohn, and Daly in the two and five mile races. Haskins and Root are the only New York Athletic Club entries, though the Pastime Athletic Club has entered Nelson in the five-mile race, and Carr, Lorz, and Bailey will also compete.

Seitz in Dashes.
In the sixty and seventy-five-yard dashes Charles Seitz, of the New York Athletic Club, is looked upon as a winner, though Lawson Robertson, the Irish-American captain, should be a dangerous opponent. The latter appears to be the most likely man in the 100-yard run, the hopes of the New York Athletic Club resting on Stevens, Randolph, and Crockett.

Some good performances are expected in the field events. The outlook is favorable for Ray Evers taking the standing high, the standing broad, and three standing jumps. The hop, step, and jump promises to lie between Princeton and Sheridan, of the Irish-Americans, and Mahoney, of the New York Athletic Club.

E. A. Gedney, of the Boston Athletic Association, is a candidate for the high jump, and will meet Mahoney, Kernan, and Fielding, of the New Yorks, and Ryan, of Columbia, in the weight and throw events. Horgan, and Gillis should score heavily for the New York Athletic Club.

DUFFY WANTS CLUB
IN EASTERN LEAGUE

Hugh Duffy, ex-manager of the Phillies, will in all probability become an owner-manager in a few days. He and Fred Doe, of the Worcester New England League club, have made Pat Powers an offer for his controlling interest in the Providence Eastern League.

Powers, who was recently elected president of the Eastern League, is ready to dispose of his interests in the Providence club, and if the Duffy-Doe combine can produce the "dough," they will get the club. It is said that Powers wants $20,000 for his holdings.

The Providence club during the last two years has done a business of nearly $100,000, and Duffy is now playing center field and managing the team, while Doe will look after the business end.

CALL ALL BETS OFF
ON BRIGHTWOOD HEAT

There were some lively doings yesterday at the Brightwood Driving club track. In the main event on the amateur program, Charles McDermott's four-year-old gelding, McDermott, driven by Lonnie Corbin, beat J. J. O'Keefe's Greenline in two straight half-mile heats for a side bet of $100.

Half led all the way, but knew he had been racing.

Brown drove The Dean to victory in straight heats in Class A. Class B was won by Jubilant, who finished second in the first heat and first in the next two.

There was a bit of a scandal in the Class C race. Bedford Boy won the first heat in 2:22, but dropped the second to Bell Hazel in 2:23. This didn't agree with past performances, and the judges' opinion was that the two horses and their caudal bets off. Thereupon Bedford Boy took the third heat and the race in 2:22.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF GANZEL FAMILY

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ganzel, of Kalamazoo, will celebrate their golden wedding on Thanksgiving day.

Four generations, comprising fifty-four persons, will be present to complete a group never broken by death.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ganzel are the head of a family of ball players. Charles Ganzel, of Detroit, one of their sons, was long a star in the National League, sharing honors with Charlie Bennett when Detroit won the National League championship in '07. John Ganzel, another son, captained the pennant-winning Grand Rapids team this year and will captain the Cincinnati team next year.

Joe Ganzel was a captain in the Interstate and Southern Michigan League team this year. Just closed, George Ganzel was a noted amateur player in Michigan. One son, Fred, who has not seen the members of the family in twenty years, is coming the way from New Guinea to attend the reunion.

Henry Hagemeyer, of Pittsburgh, has bought a colt by Axtell, 2:18, from A. S. Miller, of Salem. He is very promising, and knows nothing but trot.

CHEERING WORDS
ABOUT NEW GAME

Broken Bones Will Be Plentiful, But Players Will Escape Alive.

"After watching the game closely so far this season," says Dr. Hutchins, coach at Wisconsin and a graduate physician, "I am convinced the new rules are beneficial to the players, for the reason that, though they tend to increase minor injuries, such as broken bones and strained tendons, the percentage of fatalities will be decreased greatly."

"I believe most of the injuries will be broken bones and twisted knee joints. The broken bones will come largely from being thrown hard in open field running, when a runner is tackled and thrown. The knee twists will come, I figure, more in the end runs and other line plays generally used this year."

Many Breaks—Few Deaths.

"By dropping the old style of line plunging the danger of fatalities is greatly decreased. In those plays, when a man was called on to smash into the opposing line, almost like butting his head against a stone wall, something had to give way, and the result too often was injury to the head or neck that was far more serious than broken bones or twisted knees. Even the line men themselves were in danger in those plays for where the play was pilled up somebody was almost sure to be hurt and the danger was that they would be hurt badly. I have talked with a number of other coaches in this line of the country, and I find they all hold practically the same views that I do in regard to the injuries."

Why Some Are Killed.

"Of course, there have been some fatalities already this year, but I am confident that nine-tenths of the boys who have been killed should never have played the game at all, and would not have been permitted to do so had they had the examination to which a college man is subjected before he can play football. Such fatalities should not be permitted to weigh against the gridiron sport, for it is too often the fault of the parents, rather than the game, in permitting boys physically unable to stand such a sport to play it."

YALE FACULTY BARS
EIGHT GOOD FRESHIES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Head Coach Plafie, of the Yale freshman football eleven, was astonished yesterday when he was told that the faculty had declared ineligible eight of the members of his crack squad, which has been trimming the varsity occasionally all the fall.

The men are Cooney, the giant center formerly of Exeter; Brown and Flint, guards; Lynn, tackle; Morehead, quarterback; Merritt and Bradley, halfbacks, and Parry, tackle. The notices of deficiencies in studies were given out practically on the eve of the annual freshman game with Princeton, 1910, and crippled the strongest freshman team Yale ever had.

The loss of Cooney is the most severe as there is some strong reserve material for the other positions. The team will take its last practice today, and after that will be on the field for the game with Princeton. All of the athletes disqualified have scholarship averages a trifle low. It is understood that there is hope that two or three of the number may make up their deficiencies before the Yale-Harvard freshman game here next week Saturday.

ARMY-NAVY BOXES
AT HIGH PRICES

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Thirty-two boxes for the Army and Navy football game on Franklin Field were sold at public auction yesterday at Thomas & Son's, and the price received for them totaled $3,200, or an average of more than $100 each.

These were the boxes at the disposal of the Pennsylvania committee and will be added to the sum received for the sale of the other tickets. The entire proceeds go to the army and navy charitable institutions.

HERE'S AN EXPLANATION.

Sporting Editor The Times: Referring to the article by Lieut. J. W. Crawford, published in your paper Tuesday, I wish to state that the football team representing the Rhode Island Avenue Methodist Church played the game with the Baltimore University on Saturday last and did not use the name of the Washington Young Men's Christian Association. For the past two years we have held the 150-pound championship of the District, and to use the name of the Washington Young Men's Christian Association would not have been any credit to us whatsoever.

Very respectfully,
H. F. BRADLEY, Capt. R. I. M.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 7, 1906.

This game was announced in the advance notice in the Baltimore papers as between the Washington Young Men's Christian Association and Baltimore University, and the dispatches from Baltimore on Saturday night spoke of it in the same way. There seems to have been deliberate or unintentional misrepresentation somewhere.

M'GARRY SEEKING
MATCH IN FRISCO

Wants Crack at Britt, Hyland, or Powell—O'Brien's Hot Air.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Amby McGarry, the Bronx lightweight, will probably take a trip to Frisco without two or three weeks. Fuddy Walsh, his manager, has been in communication with Billy Roche, of the Colma Athletic Club, and things are liable to come to a head within a few days.

Walsh is very confident that the rough-house lad would walk and stick out West, if he ever got going, and is willing to fight anything they have out there that is within the lightweight limit.

"I want to get Britt, Amby Powell, or Dick Hyland," said the manager. "I've been reading a lot about this fellow Powell, and think he would be a great card. You can say that I am willing to fight Amby on a percentage purse as he wants to, and all we want is a referee who will let the boys fight."

McGarry knocked out Kid Sullivan at Baltimore a few weeks ago and stuck it on Dave Deshier, and then when Unk Russell refused to meet him, he tossed up both hands and fled.

O'Brien, from Philadelphia, is a wonder. When it comes to counting 'em along, Jack is far ahead of others that you would think they had not started at all. Out in Frisco, after the Berger-Kaufman go, Jack said that Al was the toughest boy in the world and that he would hate to meet him again.

This brings to mind the first time he went West to see Al. They were matched for twenty rounds, and Jack was met at the Ferry depot by Harry Foley.

"Harry," said O'Brien, "I know that I'm all in and that I'm up against a tough one in Kaufman. I can't hit as I used to, but don't say a word. I'll get a good short end out of this fight and then retire."

Foley fell like a wooden duck. If any one in Frisco did not hear on the quiet that the fight O'Brien was in, he would not have been so far. The result was that Kaufman was almost an even bet on the night of the fight. O'Brien was down with his wad, his jewelry, his high boots, and even his fancy socks. What a clean up that fellow gave them.

Now he's out peddling the soft stuff again. He doesn't care a rap what they think of him. All he wants is the match. Jawn will do the rest.

Despite the fact that he lost, Sam Berger, who was such a crackman in their recent fight, looks as if he will be in the next one. The associated clubs take 40 per cent. Berger had a special arrangement by which he was to take 10 per cent of the gross, win, lose or draw, and the balance, or 50 per cent was cut 50 per cent to the winner, and 40 per cent to the loser.

Resolved into figures, the fighters' share was $3,000, which Kaufman gets $3,018. Berger's share of 40 per cent and the 10 per cent bonus brings his total to $3,018. This leaves for the club $4,000, and after deducting $2,000 rent it can be seen that the four members of the fight trust after paying other expenses, will have little left in the way of dividends.

ROAST COACH WARNER
FOR LAZY METHODS

A stiff little controversy, extremely edifying to outsiders, has arisen at Cornell University between Glenn S. Warner, the football coach, and the undergraduate faculty, voiced through the college daily. For several seasons past there has been more or less of an element of friction over the methods employed by the coach in getting the eleven into form, and it now seems to have come to a head with the issue of a frank criticism of the team in the college paper's editorial column, and a hot answer from the coach.

The trend of the criticism is that Warner does not work his men hard enough. The coach comes back and says that the amount of work given the men is fielded upon by the board of coaches and that they are all old football men.

TO ELIMINATE FREAKS
FROM FLORIDA RACES

From an excellent source it is learned that unless some plan be evolved to place "freak" cars in a class by themselves, the representation of foreign cars in the Florida speed tournament will be decidedly slim. Among the machines that it was declared, would be withdrawn were those of the Darracq and Fiat companies, both of which were conspicuous in the last Southern meet.

Band Hollender, the Flat representative, has suggested a plan for the elimination of "freaks." He asks that the long distance races be placed first in the Florida series program, with the sprints reserved for the closing days. Machines, in order to qualify for the championship dashes at one, two and five miles, would be required to show an average speed in the races at one hundred miles, fifty kilometers, and thirty miles in the space of six hours. This would eliminate the "freaks" and the cars that could go the pace at all distances would line up for the world's championship at one mile.

Burr, of Harvard, has only one contestant this year in his fight for premier honors as a punter. This is Eulon Miller, of Princeton, who was at the top of the list last fall.

MURPHY ANGRY
ABOUT TRADE

No, Sir; He Wouldn't Trade Hoffman for Lumley, Even Up.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—President Murphy, of the Cubs, made a strenuous denial today of the report that he had offered to trade Outfielders Slagle and Hofman and Pitcher Keulbach for Rightfielder Lumley, of the Brooklyn team.

"I wouldn't trade Hoffman, even up, for Lumley," said Mr. Murphy. "Last winter I was after Lumley and made Brooklyn a great offer for the player, but that doesn't go now. I never dreamed of giving the three players mentioned from Lumley. Lumley is a splendid player, but no better than my own men. Manager Chance thinks Hoffman is one of the most valuable players ever on any team, and I agree with him. 'Slagle is one of the most scientific run-batters in the business and a winner every time, and as for Keulbach, I think the National League official averages will show that he has the highest percentage of victories of any pitcher in the league. Why then should any of them be let go? The story is absolutely without foundation.'"

Lively times are expected at the American League meeting in this city in December around headquarters of both leagues today. The air was full of rumors of trades, and it is predicted the December meeting will be the occasion for many important swaps.

HOLY NAME BEATS
BALTIMORE QUINT

The Holy Name basketball team, in Baltimore last night, defeated the Pastern Athletic Club 37 to 18. The features were the playing of Dawson and Murphy for Holy Name, and Croggins and Nieldfeld for the losers. Between the halves a wrestling match took place, in which Danny Murphy threw Tom Croggins twice in eight minutes. Saturday night the winners play the Alexandria Athletic Club in Alexandria. The line-up last night:

H. N.	Positions.	P. A. C.
Nash.....	R. F.	Sullivan
Dawson.....	L. F.	O'Brien
Hogan.....	G.	Smith
Hollender.....	B.	Nieldfeld
Murphy.....	L. B.	Croggins
Goals—Nash (4), Dawson (3), Murphy (3), and Hogan; Sullivan (3), Croggins (2), Nieldfeld (2). Free throws—Dawson (5), and O'Brien (2). Referee—Mr. Colbert. Timer—Mr. Lawler. Scorer—Mr. Zell.

The winners want another game with the Kelly Athletic Club for $200.00 of money. Address Captain Dawson, 214 L street northeast.

For this reason we have maintained for many years a branch to our business known as "Our Consultation Department." This department is composed of regularly graduated and licensed physicians who have made blood and skin diseases their special study, and who are employed solely to advise and help, without charge, those who use S. S. S. Thousands of people have been cured of blood and skin diseases of every kind by the use of S. S. S., and many of those who, perhaps, at first did not find the results entirely satisfactory, wrote our physicians a full statement of their case, and a little advice hastened the cure. We have nothing to sell you, and the only reason for wanting you to write to us is that we may use every effort to see that you get the best result from the medicine. You can then help us by advising your friends to use S. S. S., which you will know from experience is all we claim for it.
